1. The trip report of [REDACTED] covering their installation of a station at [REDACTED], to link that point with [REDACTED] is of some interest; in particular, we have learned that it is best not to take anyone's word for anything insofar as support facilities are concerned. Under the circumstances, [REDACTED] with the assistance of [REDACTED] personnel did a fine job. A "5X5" circuit resulted.

2. As indicated in the R&D Section of this report, [REDACTED] performance on the RS-11 contract continues to be borderline in nature. The equipment itself is generally satisfactory (some items excepted), and our procedure will probably be to accept the prototype units, operationally field test these, and incorporate any major revisions or improvements into the "production prototype" equipment at a later date.
